Lost in the Fine Print

This film explores the fine print of forced arbitration. Buried in agreements for products and services you use every day, you give up your right to an impartial judge and jury. Available free online or for download. (20 minutes)

The State of Arizona

Through the personal stories of individuals affected by immigration policies, this film explores the social and political circumstances that gave rise to Arizona's "papers please" law, SB1070; examines the roles played by government and business; and highlights the policy's human consequences. (90 minutes)

Unmanned: America's Drone Wars

This documentary investigates the impact of U.S. drone strikes at home and abroad through more than 70 separate interviews, including a former American drone operator, Pakistani families, journalists, and top military officials. (66 minutes)

Roe at Risk: Fighting for Reproductive Justice

This film documents the disturbing reality that, 40 years after Roe v. Wade, increasingly radical state laws are depriving women of reproductive rights. Students may view the film's online version or fill out a form (at the bottom of the page) to request a free DVD. (15 minutes)

Mississippi Innocence

This documentary tells the story of Levon Brooks and Kennedy Brewer, two men who combined spent over thirty years behind bars for crimes they did not commit. This poignant film asks important questions surrounding the rights of indigent defendants, prisoners and death row inmates— both historically and currently. (60 minutes)

Electoral Dysfunction

This feature-length documentary created by a team of award-winning filmmakers uses humor and wit to take an irreverent—but nonpartisan—look at voting in America. (90 minutes)

War on Whistleblowers: Free Press and the National Security State

What role do whistleblowers play in promoting government and corporate accountability, and what are the challenges they face when raising concerns in the public interest? This film, which features whistleblowers from the past, sheds light on these issues. (60 minutes)

Freedom Summer

This film covers a 10-week period in 1964 known as Freedom Summer when more than 700 student volunteers from around the country joined organizers and local citizens to work together to register African-American voters in violently segregationist Mississippi. You can request it through your school library. (112 minutes)
