

FACULTY ADVISOR CHECKLIST

Thank you for being an ACS Faculty Advisor! Faculty Advisors are key to our chapters' presence, strength, and influence. You help us identify promising leaders, guide them, and support them. You also provide consistency for our chapters after student leaders' graduate. We appreciate everything you do to make our network stronger. Below are some tips to help you support your chapter during the 2022-2023 academic year.

- ✓ In early fall, please work with your student chapter to host a “Welcome to ACS” or “What is ACS” program at your law school. Share ACS’s history and mission, talk about our initiatives and career resources, and share your ACS Story. ACS staff is happy to share talking points with you. We’ll also make sure someone on staff is available to Zoom in, if you’d like. This would be a great first event for your chapter!
- ✓ All Faculty Advisors are a part of the ACS Faculty Advisor Google Group. Look out for emails from this Google Group and please do utilize this Group to share resources and updates.
- ✓ Schedule regular meetings with your student chapter leaders and help them develop an inclusive programming plan that reflects the diversity of the progressive legal community.
 - For event ideas, check out our program guides, model calendars, and other resources here. Help students identify speakers and assist them with framing their programs.
 - Help students coordinate career-oriented programs (including paths to academia, obtaining clerkships, etc.).
 - Share information about ACS’s volunteer opportunities, including Constitution in the Classroom, Election Day Class Cancellation, and Run.Vote.Work.
