

Name of Panel: Representing Federal Employees - A Training Webinar

Date | Time | Location: March 5, 2025 | 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. ET | Virtual

Brief Description:

Federal employees are under attack. Many need or will soon need legal representation to enforce their rights, but the unprecedented breadth of this attack means that there are far too few attorneys to fill that need. Lawyers of all experience levels across the country must step up to address this crisis. The American Constitution Society, the AFL-CIO Union Lawyers Alliance, and the People's Parity Project are hosting a webinar designed to broaden the field of legal counsel available to serve these workers. The presenters will provide information and training for lawyers willing to fill this urgent need in a program designed for all levels, including newly admitted and experienced attorneys.

Agenda of Panel: 2:00 to 3:30 p.m. E.T. (1.5 hours of CLE)

- Introduction (5 min)
- Speakers' Presentations (68 min)
- Q&A (15 min)
- Conclusion (2 min)

Panelists' Names and Bios:

Danny Rosenthal, Partner, James & Hoffman

Suzanne Summerlin, Attorney at Law, Summerlin Labor Strategies

Sarah Hasan, Staff Counsel, American Federation of Government Employees

Alex Rowell, Associate, Bredhoff & Kaiser (moderator)

Materials for Panel:

REPRESENTING FEDERAL EMPLOYEES - TRAINING WEBINAR HANDBOOK (to be distributed)

JUDGE'S HANDBOOK, U.S. MERIT SYSTEMS PROTECTION BOARD (2019).

Suzanne Summerlin, Federal Employee Rights: What Probationary Employees Need to Know, JUST SECURITY (Jan. 31, 2025).

FEDERAL LABOR RELATIONS AUTHORITY – CASE TYPES

FEDERAL LABOR RELATIONS AUTHORITY – DECISIONS

FEDERAL WORKERS RIGHTS

