2007 Winners: “Fostering a More Robust Democracy”

Winner
In the Shadow of the Article 1: Applying a Dormant Commerce Clause Analysis to State Laws Regulating Aliens
- Erin Delany, New York University

Runners-Up
Depoliticizing the Judiciary: Deconstructing Textualism
- John Terry Dundon, George Washington University

Out of the Ivory Tower: Rethinking Judicial Elections with Lessons in Solidarity from Juries who Sentence Capital Defendants to Life
- Chloe Cockburn, Harvard University

Other Finalists
Popular Sovereignty, Unpopular Change: Federal Protection of State Constitutionalism
- Russell Plato, New York University

A Tangled Web We Weave: International Enforcement of Speech Restrictions in an Online World
- Gregory Cooper, University of Pennsylvania

The Party or the People: Whose Ballot Choice does the Constitution Protect?
- Guy Danilowitz, University of California, Davis

The Invidiousness Requirement: Recognizing the Need to Expand the Scope of Section 1983 (3) to Provide Relief for Politically Motivated Discrimination
- Jonathan Kossak, University of Pennsylvania

"Tinker’s Armband, But not Cohen’s Jacket”: Holding the Line at Content Neutrality for Student Speech
- Misha Issak, University of Pennsylvania

Mandated Internet Neutrality and the First Amendment: Lessons from Turner
- Moran Yemini, New York University

Political Gerrymandering after LULAC v. Perry: Considering Political Science for Legislative Action
- William Phelan, Catholic University

[Back] [2006 Winners] [Abstracts of Past Winners]